PERSONAL AUDIO

Listening to music has never been so popular and easy with our range of earphones, headphones and portable speakers. With so many devices now available to stream music wherever you are, there are lots of opportunities to supply your contacts with accessories that they can use to enjoy music wherever they are.

Our wide range of audio devices are designed to suit your own style. We don't choose the music, but we can make sure that whatever you're listening to is the best sound it can be.

" DOES ANYONE HAVE A SPARE CHARGER? "

With so many devices now being used by us all in our increasingly mobile lives at work and leisure, it's no wonder that our appetite for different power options is growing. How often do we hear "does anyone have a spare charger?".

We're experts at supplying portable and desk based power solutions. Developing more flexible, portable and easy to use options for customers with great branding opportunities. Wireless charging is now mobile as well as desk based, with portable power capacities now reaching upto 20,100 mAh which is enough to recharge a laptop. The ability to stay connected on the move has never been so easy.

Our range of cables is available in a wide selection of designs and styles intended to ensure that you always have access to a cable that is compatible with your device.

Our best selling ranges come complete with USB, mini-USB, lightning and now the latest USB-C too. Ensuring that no matter what device you're connecting to, you have the cable to transfer power or data effortlessly.

At a time when technology is such an important part of all of our lives, reliable and flexible charging cables and chargers have never been so valued as a promotional product.

Quality

We don't make low cost, disposable marketing products. We believe in manufacturing high-quality products in a responsible way. We use the latest manufacturing methods to increase efficiencies and the robustness of our production process and to manufacture products that provide customers with long lasting performance.

Our ethos is one that provides customers with the confidence that the products they are associating with are reliable and worthy of their brand.

Packaging

We are collaborating with industry experts to review our existing packaging; how we can reduce the materials required to make it, how to use sustainable and recyclable materials and inks to manufacture / decorate and how to utilise the packaging to be a more valuable part of the product characteristics.

Shipping

We buy and supply in bulk to minimise the impact of our freight activities, working with our logistics partners to bring more efficiencies to the transportation of our products.

The more compact we design our packaging helps to reduce the impact of our logistics. Where possible we also recycle and re-use shipping packaging to reduce our consumption of new materials when goods are in transit.

QUALITY CONTROL & COMPLIANCE

All of our products are tested to achieve the highest possible compliance ratings for performance, build quality and the integrity of the supply chain.

We understand that when your brand is featured on one of our products, there is a responsibility to ensure that we uphold and protect the values attached to it.

ON TREND

Technology is a fast moving sector, with new trends, new technologies and new interfaces introduced at a relentless pace.

Many of our products are accessories designed to be used and enjoyed when connected with consumer products, making it simple and convenient to use our products as marketing gifts and incentives that will appeal to the widest possible audience.

Flexible Packaging

More and more customers are seeking new ways to decorate their promotional technology. As part of our review into the impact of our materials on the environment, we're introducing more flexible packaging options that either use less materials, use more sustainable / recyclable materials or can be used for a secondary purpose once the accessory is in use. Many of the options also provide the flexibility to be custom branded with a customer's brand or campaign message.

USB-C

Rapidly becoming the new universal connector for wired devices, USB-C is being introduced into all of our accessories for transferring power and data. We are phasing in this new connector alongside the still popular USB and lightning connectors.

Wireless Charging

The trend for wire-free charging continues at pace, and working with our partners we continue to introduce new accessories and applications with this technology as the number of compatible consumer products increases.

Low Impact Materials

As a responsible corporate citizen we are challenging ourselves and our partners to reduce the impact our operations and products have on the environment and society. One initiative is to increase the use of recyclable and biodegradable materials used in the manufacture and packaging of our products.

PACKAGING TO SUIT YOUR REQUIREMENTS

As a marketing asset, technology gifts can be used in many scenarios and to support a wide range of campaigns.

All of our products are supplied with protective packaging, often with instructions, cables or accessories enclosed in the same capsule.

When requested, we can offer bespoke packaging solutions which enable our customers to either change the shape of the packaging to incorporate additional items, match other packaging that they already use or feature their own unique branding / campaign messages.

Custom packaging offers lots of opportunities to enhance the value and uniqueness of the gift to suit your budget, volumes, timings and marketing strategy.

WE DO BRANDED PRODUCTS TOO

Our promotional technology expertise has now been extended to supplying retail branded products too.

There are many reasons to choose consumer branded promotional products and we've selected a range of brands who we work closely with to offer a choice of style, brand personality and price points.

Get in touch to find out more about our range of retail brands and how they could be suitable for your next campaign, incentive or reward scheme.
